For successful mastering of Frontend development skills

Kseniya Konyukhova
CEO IT-school Byte Education

I am interested in UI/UX design and front-end development.
My goal as a developer is to apply my technical skills to web development, creating interesting web applications, cool user interfaces, and vivid, memorable web pages
that you want to visit again and again.
I am a team player open to change and will strive to bring success to the company by developing optimal algorithms
and approaches that will solve problems in front-end development.
Glad to be part of a team in an interesting project.
